

SECURING PROPERTY RIGHTS IN THE UNITED STATES

Property rights are a cornerstone of economic development and social justice. One fundamental way of understanding their strength is to ask people how secure they feel in these rights.

03 WHY

Methodology: A nationally representative sample of 1,009 adults 18 years or older were asked about their perceptions and experiences with property rights and tenure security in the United States in 2019.

Prindex is a global survey measuring perceptions of land and property rights. By developing a deeper understanding of how they work in practice, Prindex is helping to build a world where everyone feels secure in their right to their home and land.

Prindex, an initiative of Global Land Alliance and Overseas Development Institute with support from DFID and Omidyar Network, is the first global measurement of peoples' perceptions of their property rights.
